What is...

MENTOR
MONDAYS?

Mentor Mondays is a weekly live writing advice segment hosted by Lisa on her Facebook and Instagram pages. With over thirty-five free writing mentorship videos, Lisa's audience is growing and her waitlist for new professional mentees is often full.

Lisa loves her work supporting new and upcoming authors and is thrilled to be hosting an all-day workshop for Romance Writers of Australia in Fremantle this year with Kelly Rimmer.

EXTENDED BIO

Lisa Ireland is an Australian author of modern historical and contemporary fiction. Her novels include The One and Only Dolly Jamieson, The Secret Life of Shirley Sullivan, The Art of Friendship, and The Shape of Us. Additionally, Lisa has written several rural romances, including the Australian bestseller, Feels Like Home. Her eighth novel, The Studio Girls, will be released in April 2024.

Lisa has a professional background in education, with a long career in both classroom teaching and professional development leadership. Since 2021, she has combined her teaching skill with her passion for writing to successfully mentor over thirty writers. She is also a sought after speaker and workshop facilitator, and has presented at numerous literary festivals and community events, including the Queenscliffe Literary Festival, Brimbank Writers and Readers Festival and Romance Writers of Australia's annual conference.

When not writing, Lisa enjoys reading, walking her dog, and drinking copious amounts of coffee. During the covid-19 lockdowns, Lisa taught herself to crochet, and is now the proud creator of one (somewhat asymmetric) knee rug.

She Lives in Stratford, Victoria.
